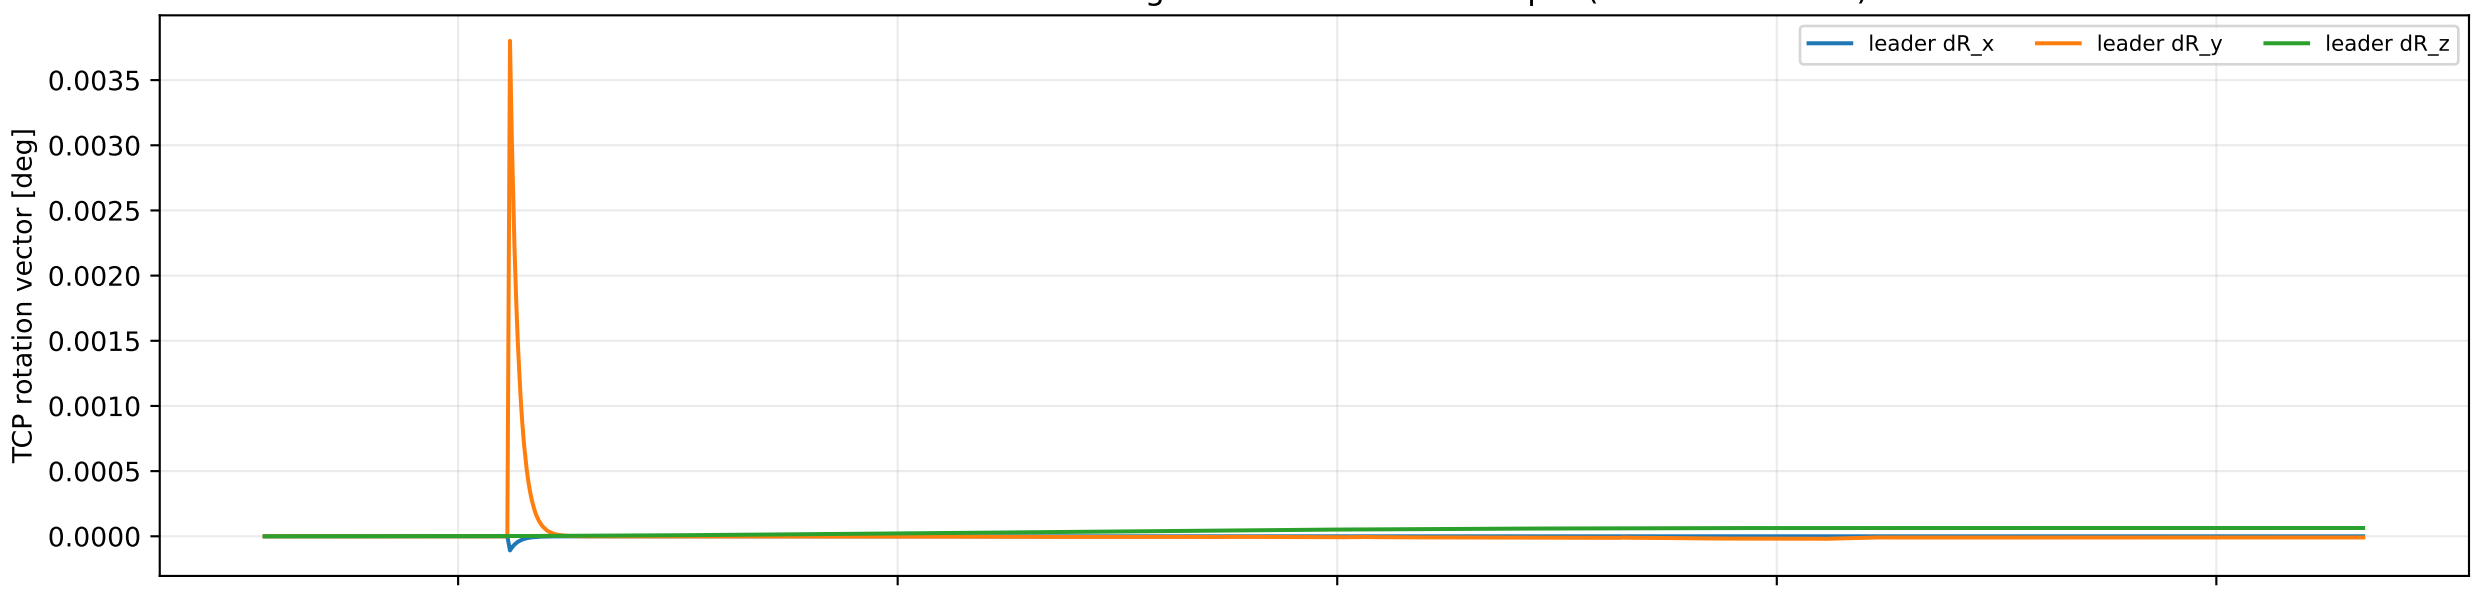
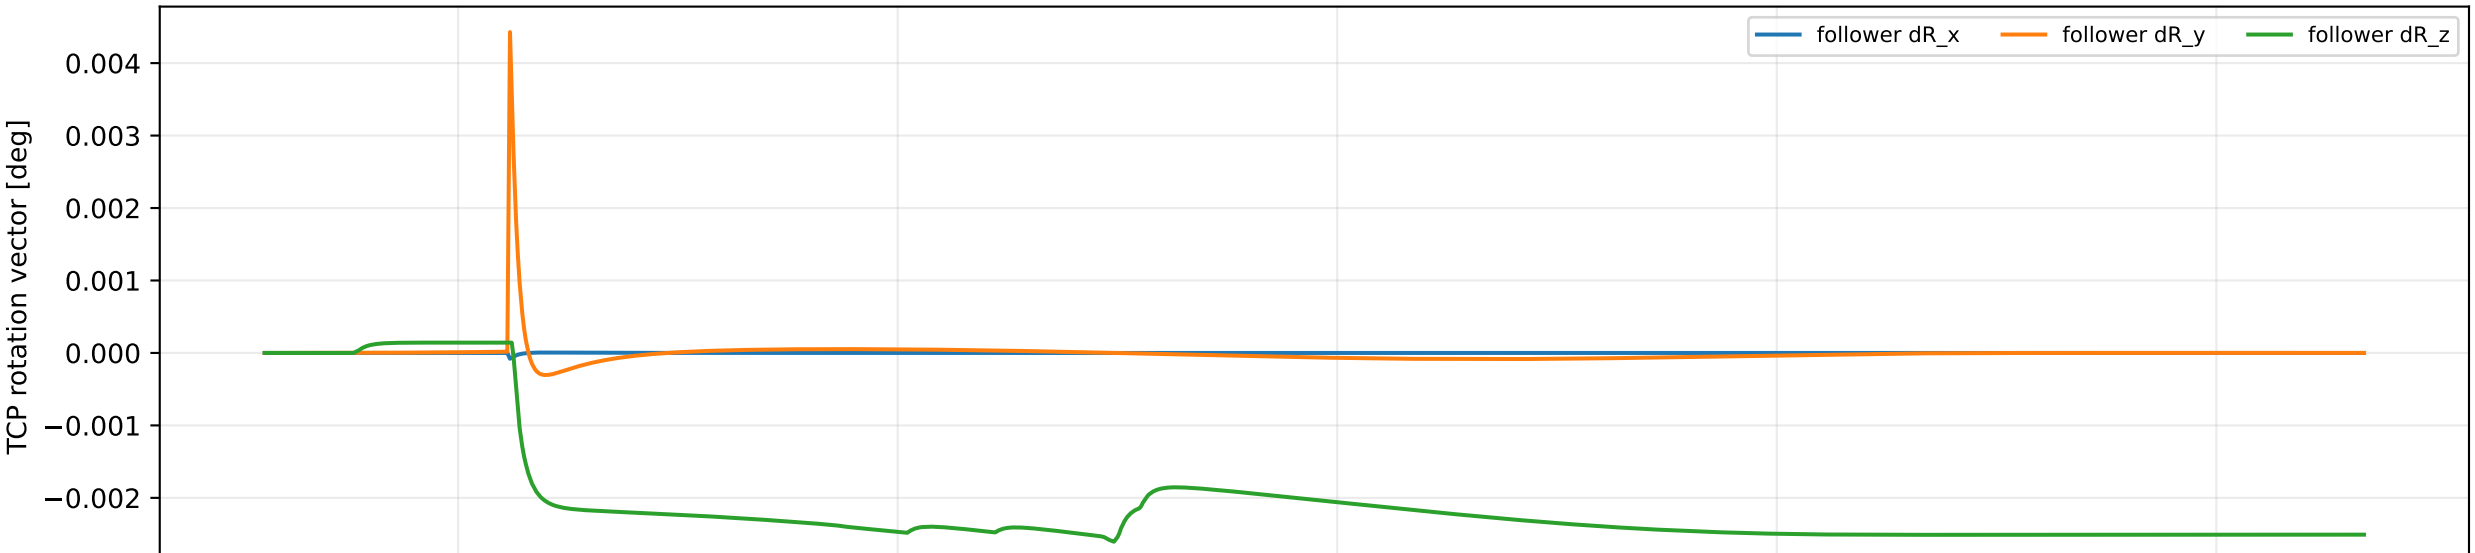
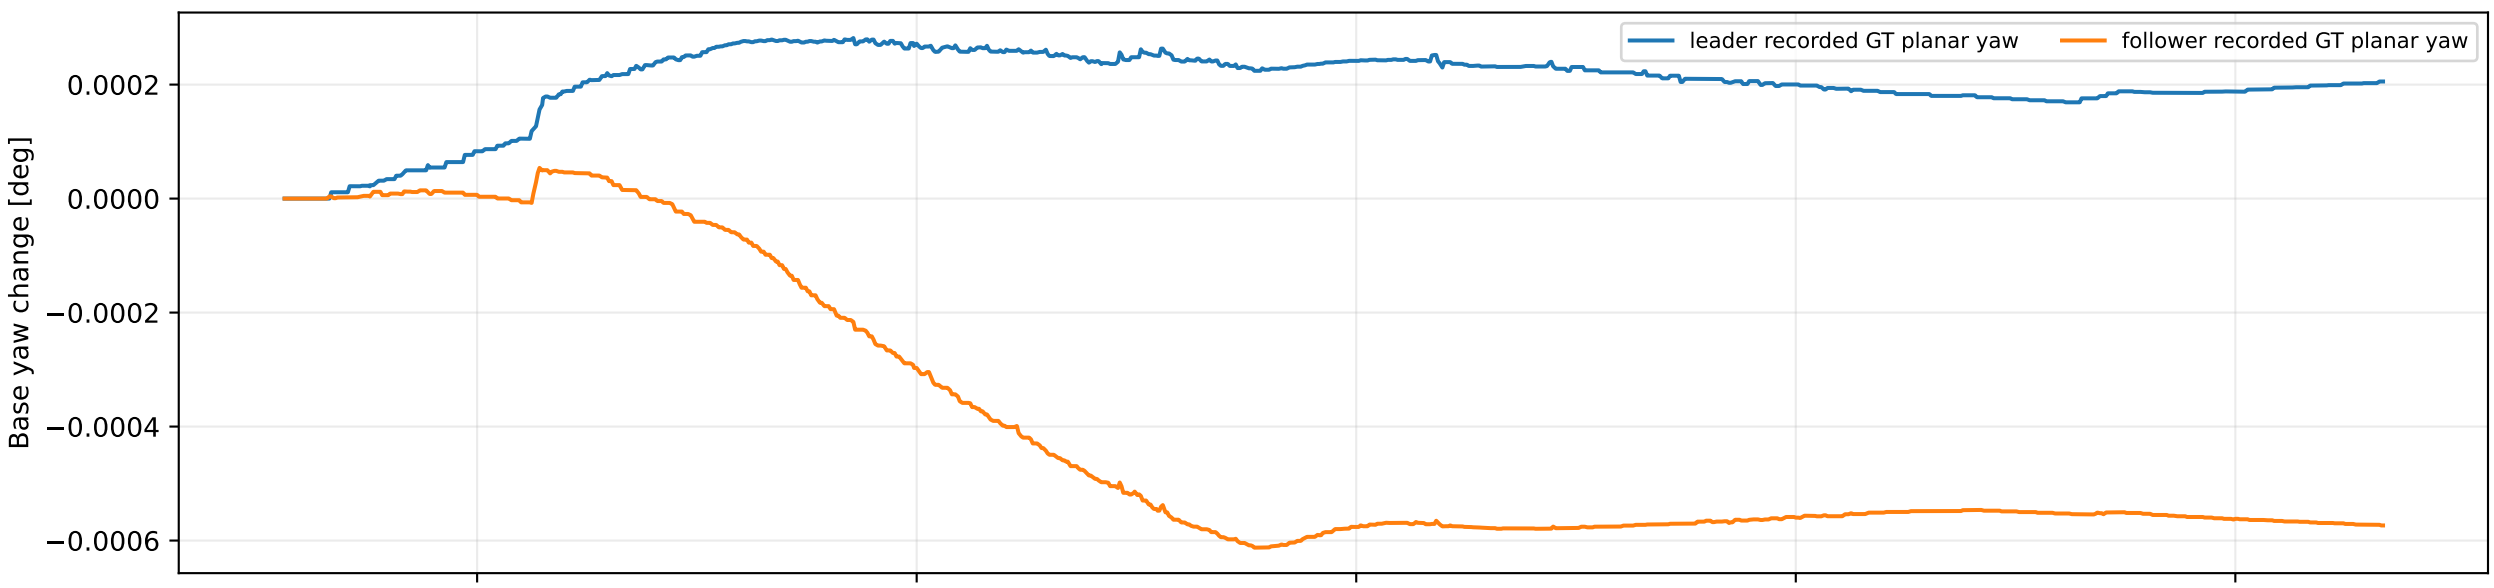
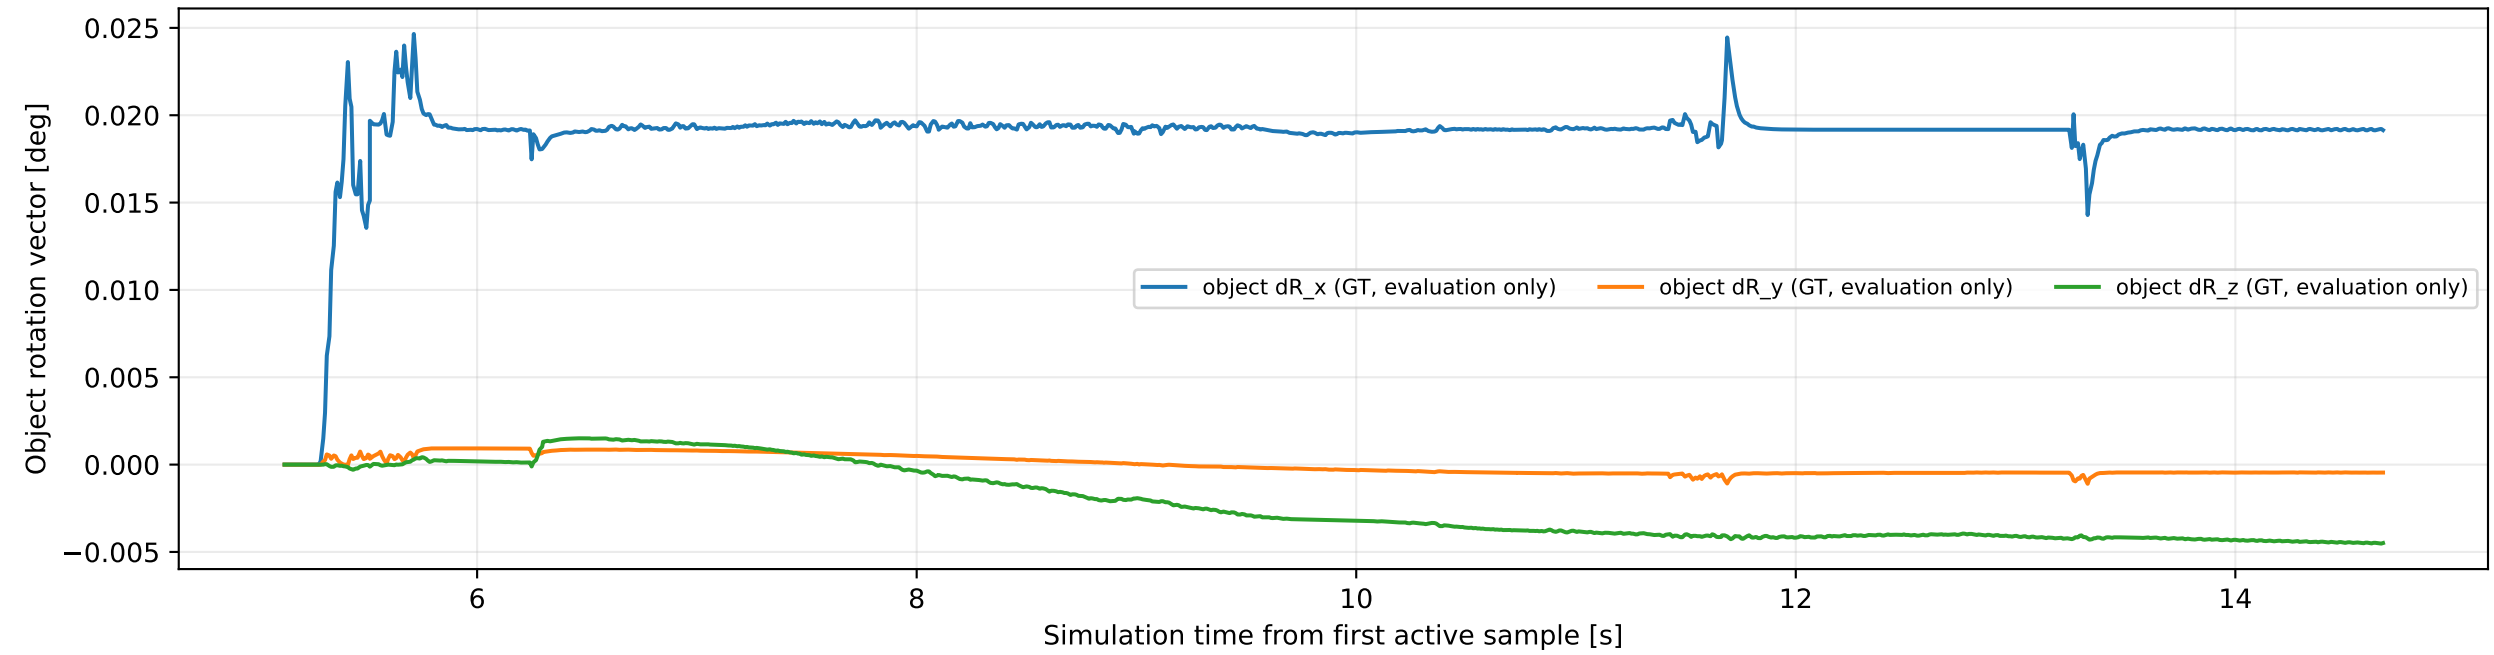
leader: orientation change from first active sample (own base frame)









follower: orientation change from first active sample (own base frame)